- 132) At all time material to this complaint, the Defendant City of Yonkers acting through the Yonkers Police Department, had in effect de facto policies, practices and customs that were a direct and proximate cause of the unconstitutional conduct of Defendants. These de facto policies, practices and customs include, inter alia: the failure to properly screen, supervise, discipline, transfer, counsel, and/or otherwise control Police Officers who are repeatedly accused of such acts; and, the Police Code Silence wherein Police Officers regularly cover-up police misconduct such as racial profiling, the unjustified use of force and tactics, like telling false and incomplete stories, or failing to report the misconduct and unjustified force and tactics by other Police Officers during their course of employment.
- 133) Additionally, Defendants allowed the named Defendants and other officers to participate in racial profiling as to people of color, in particular Latino males, such as illegally detaining, arresting and assaulting Latino males and then falsifying, fabricating evidence to cover-up their misconduct.
- 134) While the tolerance for brutality and racial profiling arises from the same set of police attitudes as the tolerance for corruption, there is an important difference. Unlike serious corruption, which most cops outwardly tolerate but inwardly deplore and resent, officers seem fairly tolerant—both outwardly and inwardly—of occasional police brutality and the use of racial profiling...[M]any do not seem to believe that anything is really wrong with a few blows and bruises now and then. Even officers who would never take a free cup of coffee, seem to tolerate what they believe is a little “street justice.” An excessive use of fists to face, a nightstick to the ribs, and knees to groin are seen as the realities of policing. Upon information and belief, this mentality is extended to racial profiling.

135) The Defendant City of Yonkers and the Yonkers Police Department had or should have had, knowledge of the vicious and violent tendencies of its employees, including all of the named Police Officer Defendants.

136) The Defendant City of Yonkers knew or should have known of the unlawful actions of all of the named Police Officer Defendants through actual and constructive notice of their unlawful activities, including but not limited to, those allegations as set forth in paragraphs “1” through “135” above.

137) Defendant the City of Yonkers failed to exercise reasonable care by retaining and not terminating the employment of all said named Police Officer Defendants or taking other appropriate corrective action. The occurrences complained of herein were due to the negligence and recklessness of the Defendant the City of Yonkers.

138) Upon information and belief, the Defendant the City of Yonkers and Yonkers Police Department have failed to effectively screen, hire train, supervise, and discipline their Police Officers, including all of the named Defendant Police Officers, for their propensity for misconduct, including lack of truthfulness, and for their failure to protect citizens from unconstitutional conduct of other Police Officers, thereby permitting and allowing the named Police Officer Defendants herein to be in a position to unjustifiably manufacture evidence, arrest, restrain and assault the Plaintiffs and to otherwise cause them injury and violate their state and federal constitutional rights.

139) Upon information and belief, all of the named Police Officer Defendants have been the subject of prior civilian and departmental complaints of misconduct that gave notice to, or should have given notice to, the City of New York that all of the named Police Officers were likely to engage in conduct that would violate the civil and constitutional rights of the public, such as the conduct complained of by Plaintiffs herein.

140) Upon information and belief, the Defendant City of Yonkers and the Yonkers Police Department, maintained an inadequate structure for risk containment and stress management relevant to its Police Officers, and failed to create proper means of containing such risk and managing such stress. Inter alia, the structure was deficient, at the time selection of Police Officers and thereafter during their employment, in its ability to evaluate and exchange information within the command structure about the performance of individual Police Officers; in its training of supervisory personnel to effectively and adequately evaluate performance of an officer; and in its ability to otherwise put the command structure on notice that an individual or individuals were at significant levels of risk to the public at large or to specific segments thereof. The effect of this was to permit Police Officers to function at levels of significant and substantial risk to the public.

- 141) As a result of the foregoing conscious policies, practices, customs and /or usages, Defendant City of Yonkers and the Yonkers Police Department, have permitted and allowed the employment and retention of individuals as Police Officers whose individual circumstances place the public or segments thereof at substantial risk of being the victims of violent and fraudulent behavior. Such policies, practices, customs and/or usages are a direct and proximate cause of the injuries to Plaintiffs herein.
- 142) As a result and proximate result of the City of Yonkers wrongful policies, practices customs and/or usages complained of herein, Plaintiffs have suffered severe physical, mental and emotional injury and pain, mental anguish, suffering, humiliation and embarrassment.
- 143) Defendant City of Yonkers is additionally liable under the legal principle of Respondeat Superior, in that all of the named Police Officer Defendants were on duty and were acting in the course and scope of their duties and employment as a City of Yonkers Police Officer during the detention, false arrest, malicious prosecution and assault upon Plaintiffs Miguel, Luis, Carlos, Christian, Pedro, and Jean Carlos.

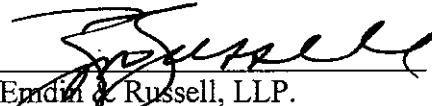

WHEREFORE, Plaintiffs Miguel Ball, Luis Gonzalez, Christian Reid, Carlos Ramirez, Pedro Martinez, and Jean Carlos Rodriguez respectfully request judgment upon all causes of action against Defendants as follows:
